

Passionate pioneer? Apply now!

High-quality, modern animal nutrition made in Germany. That's us. We develop and distribute innovative feed additives that uniquely contribute both to profitability and to animal welfare. We love to make our customers' businesses strong, sustainable and successful, and to contribute towards securing the food supply for a growing world population. To achieve this, our multinational team of highly qualified specialists works very closely with our customers, anticipating their needs, understanding their problems and developing just the right solutions. Due to our continued growth, we wish to expand our international team of specialists.
